We have improved the line of communication between faculty, staff, and students. We are continuously working to make information more accessible to entire student body (residents, commuters, non-traditional, and minority).

Listed below are techniques in which we use to provide information to the students:

- Informing students of new changes pertaining to rules and policies via Facebook, Twitter, Tiger Mail, Tiger Talk, and everyday contact (word of month)
- Hosting forums
- Informing faculty and staff about our meetings/events via email and personal contact.
- Increase promotion and establish more effective marketing strategies for all events

There is still much work to do, but we strongly believe that the line of communication will continue to improve through using the strategies listed above.

“Committed to Excellence with the WRITE Attitude (QEP)”
Being that the mission of the university is to promote a culture of academic excellence; your Student Government Association began a Distinguished Lecture Series. The Distinguished Lecture Series is designed to expose students, faculty, staff, and the general community to lectures/public conversations with world-class leaders and scholars in the area of culture, religion, philosophy, and art. It also provides an opportunity for the nation’s most renowned public leaders and leadership experts to share their experiences and insights on contemporary leadership issues and the challenges likely to confront tomorrow’s leaders.

Furthermore, Miss Savannah State University has also hosted programs to empower young women on campus and in the community. The Class Officers have also hosted various programs and social events to stimulate the students’ college experience. From pool parties, Senior Advising Days, Real Talks, Go-Green Initiatives, Adopt A Street (Skidway), and participating in service throughout the Savannah community.
